

A Female student at Alexandria University won the African Taekwondo Championship (2022)

Prof. Abdel Aziz Konsowa, President of Alexandria University, congratulated the female champion, Shahad Abdel Fattah, a first-level student at the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, Alexandria University, for winning the women's gold medal for adults at the African Puma Championship, which was held on July 13 and 14 in the Rwandan capital, Kigali, wishing her further progress, success, and winning championships. May the Egyptian flag continue to flutter in all international forums.

in

For his part, Dr. Wael Nabil, Vice President of the University for Education and Student Affairs, congratulated the student Shahad Abdel Fattah, stressing that the university is keen to provide all means of support to its female sports heroes to achieve more achievements in all international forums..