Alexandria University wins first place in the innovations and patents production index and the Silver Medal in new energy projects at the 7th Cairo International Innovation Exhibition 2022-2023.

Prof. Abdel Aziz Konsowa, President of Alexandria University, announced that the university won first place in the ranking of the innovations and patents production index, and second place and the silver medal in new and renewable energy projects for the green hydrogen and green ammonia production project, at the conclusion of the activities of the Cairo International Innovation Fair 2023 in its seventh edition. The event was organized by the Ministry of Higher Education and the Academy of Scientific Research for Science and Technology in the period from 13-14 February, under the patronage of President Abdel Fattah El-Sisi, and under the supervision of Dr. Mohamed Ayman Ashour, Minister of Higher Education and Scientific Research, and Dr. Mohamed Saqr, President of the Academy for Scientific Research and Technology The event was held in the new capital, The new administration, with the participation of Egyptian universities, the research center and various industrial bodies.

 The University President stressed that these results were a reflection of the university's interest in supporting innovation and promoting the idea of a knowledge-based economy, praising the distinguished and honorable level of university students in all local and international forums, and explaining that the university works to sponsor entrepreneurs and innovators among university students, researchers and emerging projects through a support office. Innovation, transfer and marketing of technology (TICO) and through the technological incubators for smart systems launched by Alexandria University to provide support to those with promising ideas from faculty members, researchers, students and innovators, and through the support provided to research to transform it into products to be the nucleus of companies in the Technology Park established by Alexandria University. The university has a Center for Entrepreneurship and Innovation, which includes minds and energies interested in innovation and creativity. The university seeks to support them to ensure effective management of human creativity