Alexandria University: Public Educational and Community Events in 2025

Alexandria University organized a range of educational lectures, cultural events, awareness seminars and community-oriented activities during 2025. Its official website provides announcements and, for several events, photographs. Alexandria University promotes lifelong learning and community engagement through educational lectures, awareness seminars, cultural exhibitions and knowledge-sharing events organized across its faculties and specialized institutes.

During 2025, the University organized educational activities addressing public health, cultural understanding, sustainable development and social awareness. Examples include the World Hepatitis Day seminar, the Cultural Heritage Exhibition involving 19 nationalities, and educational sessions addressing smoking, lung cancer and drug prevention.

The Faculty of Medicine also advertised a cultural book discussion in December 2025 with an open invitation to attend, demonstrating the University's commitment to extending educational and cultural opportunities beyond conventional classroom teaching. These activities contribute to the University's educational and community-service mission and support SDG 4, particularly the promotion of lifelong learning.

1. World Hepatitis Day – Community Health Awareness

20 July 2025 · Higher Institute of Public Health , Public access: Community-oriented event; unrestricted admission

An educational seminar entitled “Together Towards a Future Free from Hepatitis”, organized in collaboration with the Association of Infection Control Physicians in Alexandria. It addressed hepatitis prevention, treatment and evidence-based public health information.

2. Cultural Heritage Exhibition – International Communities

29 April 2025 · Alexandria University Stadium

Public access: International guests and a large student audience were documented

A cultural exhibition featuring students from 19 nationalities, with traditional clothing, handicrafts, paintings, food heritage and cultural presentations. The event promoted intercultural learning and dialogue.

3. Smoking and Lung Cancer – Public Health Education

2 December 2025 · Higher Institute of Public Health

Public access: Participation across university faculties was documented; wider public admission

An educational seminar discussing lung cancer, environmental pollutants and the health risks associated with cigarettes, shisha and electronic cigarettes. The seminar discussed smoking form the religious perspective.

4. Cultural Awareness Seminar – Public Book Discussion

24 December 2025 · Faculty of Medicine

An openly advertised invitation, although the announcement

A cultural book discussion of I Am Coming, O Light by Mohamed Abu El-Gheit, with Professor Huda Mekki as guest speaker. The Faculty of Medicine published an invitation stating that all were

5. Drug Prevention and Youth Awareness

26 October 2025 · Faculty of Education

An educational seminar delivered with the national Fund for Combating and Treating Addiction and Abuse. It addressed drug prevention, addiction risks and the role of young people in community awareness.

6. First Cultural Tourism Forum

19 March 2025 · Faculty of Tourism and Hotel

A forum dedicated to cultural tourism, relevant to heritage education and professional knowledge exchange.The event is listed in the university's official conference archive, with public admission

7. World Health Day 2025

16 April 2025 · Higher Institute of Public Health

The institute organized an event marking World Health Day, demonstrating its engagement with health education and awareness.